Tony Marinucci reported that Micropile NHI workshop courses were now available for purchase. Micropile or Drilled Shaft courses could be purchased through IAF. The Chapter would be responsible for paying ½ the cost of the course up front. IAF would pick up the other half. Tony will check into the cost of the courses and report back to the chapter. He believes the price of the courses is somewhere around $6 to $7k. Each course consists of a maximum of 35 seats. Purchase of the course requires 20 seats to be reserved for DOT/Federal and State employees at no cost. 15 seats would be available for a nominal fee and would cover the cost of the course. Tony to check into any PDH's that may be available for attending the NHI workshop.
